JEROME FAILED TO APPEAR IN COURT

Hearing Postponed as Justice
Denounced Him.

CROWDS CHEER THE REBUKE

Charge Against Representative of New York State May Assume International Aspect—Application to Release Thaw on Bail Now Expected. Both Sides Are Confident of Victory.

Coaticook, Que., Sept. 8.—William Travers Jerome refused to appear in court when he was called for arraignment on the charge of being a gambler.

Justice of the Peace McKee put the hearing over until Thursday, Sept. 11, and allowed the bail of $500 to stand unforfeited, though he took occasion to denounce Jerome and to insist that the New York attorney would be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. Spectators in the courtroom applauded the justice's remarks, while Jerome's counsel remained silent.

At Ottawa, the Canadian capital, it was reported that the arrest of Mr. Jerome may assume an international aspect. It is understood the department of justice will thoroughly probe the circumstances of his arrest, and if it should be found not strictly in accordance with the law an apology may be tendered to the state of New York. Mr. Jerome remained at Norton Mills, Vt., preparing to continue the fight to bring Harry K. Thaw back to Matetan.

Thaw in Detention Cell.
Thaw remained temporarily deserted by counsel and friends in the immigration detention cell while the authorities awaited an order to take him to Montreal to face the court of appeals on a writ of habeas corpus on Sept. 13.

Application to release Thaw on bail is expected in Montreal, probably on Monday. In legal circles of Canada it is now the belief that the Thaw case is launched on its long course to the privy council and will not be settled for months.

E. Blake Robertson, assistant superintendent of immigration, says: "Thaw will be deported; be sure of that." Mr. Lathams of Thaw's counsel says, "We liked Jerome, and there will be no deportation."

On application by Jacob Nicoll, K. C., and Hector Verrett, K. C., appearing for Jerome at the hearing, the lawyers were permitted to enter on appearance for their client and his hearing was continued until Sept. 11. The court renewed the $500 bail.

Justice Scores Jerome.
Justice of the Peace McKee was very angry when he learned that Jerome was at Norton's Mills, Vt., just across the border.

"Mr. Jerome may think that Coaticook is a suburb and that he can play poker in the street," he said, "but we will enforce our laws and show him that he cannot come here and play cards before our children. He shall be prosecuted to the fullest extent. Our relations with the American bar are cordial, but our laws must be upheld."

The remarks of the gray bearded justice were greeted with cheers and the magistrate made no attempt to stop the applause. He was at first inclined to declare Jerome's bail forfeited, but when Attorney Verrett reminded him that this would simply mean a loss to two Canadian citizens and would not hurt Jerome the court decided to let the bail stand. Jerome's $500 bail was furnished by Verrett and Andre Rousseau, a local hotel keeper. Rousseau declared that Thaw had in seriousness offered to reimburse him if Jerome forfeited his bail.

SENATE READY TO PASS TARIFF BILL

Upper House to Approve Measure in Original Form.

WOOD PULP CLAUSE IS OUT

Progressive Republican Votes Claimed as Offset to Louisiana Senators' Refusal to Support Bill on Account of Sugar Provisions—Smoot Expresses Opinion Concerning Wood Pulp.

Washington, Sept. 8. There is strong possibility of a vote on the tariff Monday night. A continuous session was held, however, to get the bill out of committee.

It was made almost a certainty that the bill would be passed practically intact, after four months' discussion in the senate. Confident of solid Democratic support, except for Randall and Thornton of Louisiana, who bolted free sugar, the Democratic leaders professed to have promises of support from some Progressive Republicans. Some of the leaders predicted the bill would pass with a majority of four or five.

An important development was the striking from the bill, by order of the finance committee, of the countervailing duty on wood pulp, a provision designed as retaliation against Canada for wood pulp export restrictions. Senator Smoot said he would vote for the amendment, but predicted that it would not be many years when the great pulp manufacturing business would be transferred to Canada.

"The only result will be that the profits will go to Canadian manufacturers," said Mr. Smoot. "All the burdens of these retaliations must be borne by the American newspaper publishers, who, in 1912, paid indirectly a penalty of more than $3,000,000 in addition to the amount of retaliatory duties paid directly.

Supply Limited.
"No print paper can be bought in the open market. American mills will not sell news print paper unless they know its destination, the purpose for which it is to be used and the name of the buyer. They starve the market by restricting production, as is shown by their monthly reports to the bureau of corporations."

"They have kept down the stock of paper on hand at the mills to an eight day supply for all the newspapers of the country. They have dumped paper into Great Britain at lower prices than they will sell to the American consumer."

The free leather paragraph was amended to make sure the free importation of all leathers.

Long discussion developed over the free importation of works of art more than fifty years old. Senators Root and Lodge appealed in vain for a revision to encourage American art for the benefit of all the people.

Senator Simmons said the Democrats next session would adequately consider trust and railroad questions and did not want to load the tariff bill down with important railroad rate legislation.

REVOLT IN SANTO DOMINGO

Gunboat Des Moines is Hurrying Thither From Venezuela.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Reports of a revolution in Santo Domingo have sent the gunboat Des Moines churning across the Caribbean from the Venezuelan coast to Puerto Plata.

The state department has unofficial information that Puerto Plata, Samana, Sanchez and Sasua, all sea ports, have been closed, ostensibly to prevent the revolutionists from getting materials of war.

Steel Cars Ordered.

Boston, Sept. 8.—The Boston and Albany railroad, which is leased by the New Haven, announced the letting of contracts for twenty steel coaches, four steel mail cars, four steel mail and baggage cars and two steel diners.

¶ The primary election will be held Tuesday, September 16th.

¶ There will be two separate tickets to be voted at the primaries—the non-partisan judiciary ticket and the partisan ballot on which candidates for county, borough and township offices will have their names.

¶ If a voter is enrolled he can vote both tickets, but if he is not enrolled he can vote only the non-partisan judge ballot.

¶ Candidates for the judiciary are not identified by party titles, hence the voter is not voting against his own party by voting for any of the judicial candidates, no matter who that candidate may be.

¶ Voting for a candidate for judge does not bind the voter to anything more than his act at the primaries, and does not affect his standing as a Washington, Republican or Democratic voter.

¶ The voter who supports a judicial candidate at the primaries cannot be deprived of his right to vote for his own party candidates at the November election.

¶ Party lines are not drawn in the non-partisan contest for judicial nominations, and the voter may vote for any of the judicial candidates without regarding himself unfaithful to the political party of his choice.

BARN DESTROYED BY LIGHTNING SATURDAY

Storm Was Very Severe in Vicinity of Osceola Mills

Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock a most severe storm passed over Osceola and vicinity, doing considerable damage.

The storm was worse in Decatur township, the lightning flashes being almost incessant. On the farm of James Kephart deceased a large barn was struck by lightning and the building and its contents, including this season's crops and the farming machinery, were destroyed, entailing a heavy loss.

Homer Southard, the R. F. D. mail carrier, while delivering mail on Saturday afternoon, was knocked over and stunned by a stroke of lightning, but soon recovered.

BOGUS "ANTIQUES."

There is a Very Simple Way to Outwit the "Art Fakers."

Every little while some victim of artistic swindlers comes into court asking damages. The "antique" bookcase for which he paid $4,000 proves to be one made week before last, an exact copy of those offered at annual sales for $74.65. The "original" picture by Greuze or Corot or George Inness or Homer Martin turns out to be a fake perpetrated by some "artist" who is glad to draw a regular salary of $50 per week for helping gull the public.

In such cases the courts recover as much of the victim's money as possible. His loss in time, mortification, disgust and disappointment must be charged to experience. And for every such case which sees the light of a courtroom scores are kept concealed.

There is a simple way to outwit these "art fakers." If you are buying furniture, buy for beauty and utility, not for age. If you are buying pictures buy for art's sake, not for a name's sake. Names can be forged, age can be simulated, but beauty and usefulness are possessions in themselves, no matter from whose hand you get them.

True, this rule requires the buyer to study pictures and furniture until he knows something about them. But without such knowledge the owner gets little satisfaction out of the possessions. If people bought only those articles which they understand and approve, we should have a saner standard of living in this good country.—Chicago Journal

ELECTRIC PLANT TO BE DISCONTINUED

Penn Service Company to Take Over Dimeling Company

The Dimeling Light and Power company has notified its patrons that on or about September 30 service by the company would be discontinued. The company states that this action was made necessary by the limitations of its plant and local conditions.

The Penn Public Service company will take over the patrons of the Dimeling company or such of them as wish to connect with the former company.

The Dimeling company states that to insure good service it would have been necessary to reequip the plant "which would involve many difficulties and an outlay of money that is not justified by local patronage."

It is the cottage in which Mr. Sage died and is one of the favorite houses maintained by Mrs. Sage. Many of the messages of congratulation will come from the many institutions her widespread charity has helped.

Cat and Mouse.

Two players, the cat and the mouse, are blindfolded and tied to a tree or post by two long strings. The mouse is given two pieces of wood, or a nutmeg grater and a piece of wood answers the purpose better. These the mouse grates together occasionally to give the cat a clue as to its whereabouts.

As both players are blindfolded, the cat is sometimes close beside the mouse when she hears the grating and can easily pounce upon her. When caught the mouse becomes a cat, and the cat joins the spectators, while a new mouse is chosen to take the mouse's place.

MAYOR MUST GO TO COURT

Schenectady Official Who Chopped Down Tree Cited For Contempt.

Schenectady, N. Y., Sept. 8.—County Judge Naylor ordered Mayor Luan to show cause next Wednesday why he should not be punished for contempt of court because he cut down a tree the other day in one of the city's main streets. The order was granted on the application of Dennis Powlowicz, whose tree was destroyed by the mayor.

Judge Naylor issued an injunction last Thursday forbidding the tree chopping. The order was directed against the city, but did not include Mayor Luan's name. For this reason the mayor said that it did not restrain him from cutting the tree, which interfered with the building of a sewer.

JUDGE RECOGNIZES GLYNN.

Defeat For Sulzer in Preliminary Action on Schenectady Requisition.

Schenectady, N. Y., Sept. 8.—The question of the right of Governor Sulzer to exercise the functions of governor pending his trial under impeachment was not passed upon when the legality of a writ of extradition issued by Mr. Sulzer came up before Supreme Court Justice Edward C. Whitmyer in a habeas corpus proceeding in behalf of the prisoner, Richard Leather, wanted in California on a charge of larceny. The matter was adjourned until next Saturday at 10 a. m.

But Justice Whitmyer did show a disposition to base his action on the legal opinion of Attorney General Carmody that, pending trial of the impeachment, Lieutenant Governor Glynn was constitutionally acting governor. In open court Justice Whitmyer advised the Los Angeles authorities to make application to Acting Governor Glynn for the necessary papers, and they signified their intention of doing so.

RICH CUT GLASS MADE IN CLEARFIELD

Kupfer Company Turning Out Beautiful Works of Art

One of the busiest industries in Clearfield is Emil Kupfer cut glass works, on Market street, near the bridge. This establishment is a regular beehive of industry, the one hundred or more employees being as busy as bees all day long in turning out fine cut glass. The company has on hand a large stock of glassware of every description, which is quickly being converted into rich cut glass by the deft fingers of the workmen.

Every process through which the glass ware passes makes for perfection, and the finished product is the delight of those who see it. The firm is now engaged in cutting glass ware from a design which it patented July 29. This is known to the trade as the Horseshoe pattern, and pieces bearing this design are as beautiful as the most critical art lover could wish to have in his collection.

The glass factory employs about 100 men, boys and girls and has a payroll of over one thousand dollars per week, being one of the most important of Clearfield's industries. The demand for the Horseshoe design is rapidly growing and necessitates the rushing of work at the plant.

A Haunted Library.

One of the most curious "hauntings" occurs in a northern castle of great antiquity where Mary, queen of Scots, rested when she was being conveyed a prisoner through England. It is manifested in the library and takes the form that the books cannot be kept in order. They move about or are moved about from shelf to shelf. If you arrange the works of Shakespeare in correct order on one shelf, by next morning the volumes are scattered anyhow on different shelves. This has gone on for years. At different times the library has been searched and locked, watches have been set all night, servants have come and gone, but the mysterious occurrence goes on and is vouched for not only by the family, but by the guests who have stayed in the house. There is no legend to account for it.—London Mail.

COMING EVENTS.

Anti-Saloon League convention Clearfield district, Clearfield, Oct. 7.
American Mechanics' basket picnic Mineral Springs, Sept. 12.
Hospital supper Sept. 9th.

Good evening! Of course you will attend the hospital supper tomorrow evening.

THE HOSPITAL'S NEEDS.

The Clearfield hospital has been doing an immense amount of good among the sick and injured this summer, many patients having been treated for diseases or for wounds sustained in accidents. To maintain a hospital of the kind which is at the command of the people of this community is an expensive proposition. The aid given by the state to the Clearfield hospital is inadequate, while private contributions are lacking in amount unless the friends of the hospital are spurred to action by extraordinary efforts.

Tomorrow evening a supper will be given in Witmer park by the Junior auxiliary of the hospital for the purpose of helping to raise the money which is needed to purchase certain supplies for that institution. An excellent repast will be served by the young ladies of the auxiliary, and every citizen who knows what the hospital has been doing and realizes what it will be called upon to do in the coming months should attend this supper and be liberal in his patronage.

It is unpleasant to think that an institution which is so beneficial to the community should find it necessary to appeal to the public for funds with which to carry on its beneficent work, but as this is the case it behooves Clearfield citizens to prove their interest in the activities of the hospital and their appreciation of its good work by making substantial contributions to the finances of the hospital. The pressing needs of the hospital for those things which are required to properly care for the sick and injured should meet with liberal responses from the public.

A PECULIAR SITUATION

Upon advice of the county commissioners, the voters of Huntingdon county refrained from enrolling, with the exception of one voter, and now the state department has decided that this one man has the legal right to nominate every candidate for office on the Republican ticket. This is one of the peculiar situations which either ignorance of the law or carelessness has brought about since the passage of the enrollment act.

The law is plain. Every voter in a city must be registered and every voter in districts outside of cities must be enrolled by assessors, if they wish to vote at the primaries. Even the strange action of the Huntingdon county commissioners in advising against enrollment does not help the voters, and only the citizen who was enrolled is entitled to vote at the primaries.

If this one man is honest and honorable he will name proper men as candidates but if he wishes to make a farce of the nomination he might name for every office except those for state office, men who have not the least qualifications for the positions. Thus does the non-observance of the mandates of the law prevent the people from having a say in the nomination of candidates for office.

MRS. PANKHURST.

It is stated that that blatant and rabid militant suffragist, Mrs. Emeline Pankhurst, contemplates making a tour of the United States for the purpose of trying to induce American women to enter upon similar practices to those employed in England in an effort to bring about votes for women. As a female Mrs. Pankhurst will not be molested if she comes to this country, but if she attempts to put into practice here the methods which have disgraced and retarded women's suffrage in England she will be considered an undesirable person and be treated accordingly.

Mrs. Pankhurst is not a respectable person. She is a virago whose mind has been wrecked by her insane acts against the law. She is the most dangerous individual at large, and it would serve her right if she were to be refused admittance to the United States. The women of this country are fast winning what they ask—the ballot—but they are winning this privilege in a peaceful manner. If they were to listen to such females as Mrs. Pankhurst they would not only delay indefinitely the day when they may vote, but would lose that privilege in those states in which they now have the franchise.

Jerome, while pretending to uphold the law, violates the law flagrantly, and his overthrow brings no sorrow to the rest of the American people.

Those Thaw habeas corpus are becoming almost as numerous as the former ruler of Turkey's ultimatums.

But everyone knows that only one candidate for judge can be elected this year, and at that it is possible that the winner may be sorry he got the prize.

The Pankhurstian spirit believes that circumstances may yet require that the United States annex Mexico. We hope that this will not take place until after the Greasers have killed off each other.

We were pretty sure that if Jerome went so far away from his guardian he would get into mischief.

Chicago women refused to rename the street in which they lived Woodrow, in honor of the president. It is not yet known whether the president will be kind enough to change his name to something less suggestive of rural life to please these Chicago women.

MORGAN G. BULKELEY.

Former Senator Not Sorry That New Haven's Fiscal Agents Ended Contract.

The withdrawal of Morgan G. Bulkeley as fiscal agent of the New Haven railroad did not distress former United States Senator Morgan G. Bulkeley of Connecticut who objected to the fact that the firm received a 2 1/2 per cent commission for floating the new debture bond issue. He also questioned the propriety of a road director acting as financial agent.

OSCAR W. UNDERWOOD.

Majority House Leader,
Sponsor For Tariff Bill, to Seek Senatorial Toga.

Representative Oscar W. Underwood is likely to announce his candidacy for the United States senate for the term beginning March 4, 1915. His friends in Alabama are urging him to do so. Close political associates of Mr. Underwood believe he will make an announcement immediately after the new Underwood tariff bill is signed by President Wilson. Mr. Underwood refrains from discussing the matter now. Friends believed to be in his confidence say he has not definitely made up his mind, but expect him to become a candidate after the tariff law is out of the way.

TRAVIS AGAIN WINS GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Defeated Anderson by 5 Up and 4 to Play.

Garden City, N. Y. Sept 8.—Jerome D. Travis, Upper Montclair, is a national amateur golf champion for the fourth time. He won the title on the links of the Garden City Country club here when he defeated John G. Anderson, Braburn, by 5 up and 4 to play. Travis, whose name is almost synonymous with golf in America, first became national champion in 1907 when he defeated A. Graham at Euclid. He won the title again the following year from Max Behr at Garden City, but then for several years he was not successful. Last year, however, he returned to form and defeated Charles Evans, Jr. Edgewater. Since then he has also won the Metro polltan and New Jersey titles. John G. Anderson, his opponent, is not so well known in national golf though for several years he has been a shining light in Massachusetts, his home state, having twice won the state championship.

J., John Lawrence, a motorman, crawled into the front vestibule of his car and ran it to Florence, where he was attended by a physician. According to passengers on the car the shooting occurred while Hamilton was attempting to explain the mechanism of an automatic revolver to the motorman.

Five workmen were blown to pieces by an explosion at a fireworks factory in Aubervilliers, a northern suburb of Paris. France. Fragments of their bodies were blown a distance of 600 feet.

It will cost $255 to make the changes in the senate chamber necessary to accommodate the high court of impeachment for the trial of Governor Sulzer. The contract for the work has been awarded.

An inspired dispatch says there is no word for expecting any change in the terms of government's attitude of non-participation in the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco in 1915 in spite of reports to the contrary.

AMUSEMENTS

It is more than likely that "Common Law," to be offered at the New Opera House tonight, will prove a sort of dramatic revelation as broadside agal at the logic which has made so many people blindly confident in love that they are eager enough to break all conventions. Robert W. Chambers' book from which this play was adapted tells the story of a misguided girl thrown upon her own resources, in a skillful manner and with flawless delicacy.

"The Common Law" is a tale of amazing frankness and unflinching interest. It's the story of love and passion told with terseness and accumulating vigor while dealing with the vita subject of marriage. Some good seats still unsold.

"Within The Law."

The American Play Co. has engaged a remarkably able cast for "Within the Law" which appears at the Opera House on Wednesday night, and the elaborate scenic production which is to be employed here is identical, even to the small details, with that employed in New York and Chicago, where this stirring new play was designated the dramatic sensation of the year.
Seats on sale tomorrow.

an will report back in Washington

JEROME FAILED TO APPEAR IN COURT

Hearing Postponed as Justice
Denounced Him.

CROWDS CHEER THE REBUKE

Charge Against Representative of New York State May Assume International Aspect—Application to Release Thaw on Bail Now Expected. Both Sides Are Confident of Victory.

Coaticook, Que., Sept. 8.—William Travers Jerome refused to appear in court when he was called for arraignment on the charge of being a gambler.

Justice of the Peace McKee put the hearing over until Thursday, Sept. 11, and allowed the bail of $500 to stand unforfeited, though he took occasion to denounce Jerome and to insist that the New York attorney would be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Spectators in the courtroom applauded the justice's remarks, while Jerome's counsel remained silent.

At Ottawa, the Canadian capital, it was reported that the arrest of Mr. Jerome may assume an international aspect. It is understood the department of justice will thoroughly probe the circumstances of his arrest, and if it should be found not strictly in accordance with the law an apology may be tendered to the state of New York. Mr. Jerome remained at Norton Mills, Vt., preparing to continue the fight to bring Harry K. Thaw back to Matetan.

Thaw in Detention Cell.
Thaw remained temporarily deserted by counsel and friends in the immigration detention cell while the authorities awaited an order to take him to Montreal to face the court of appeals on a writ of habeas corpus on Sept. 13.

Application to release Thaw on bail is expected in Montreal, probably on Monday. In legal circles of Canada it is now the belief that the Thaw case is launched on its long course to the privy council and will not be settled for months.

E. Blake Robertson, assistant superintendent of immigration, says: "Thaw will be deported; be sure of that."

Mr. Lathams of Thaw's counsel says, "We liked Jerome, and there will be no deportation."

On application by Jacob Nicoll, K. C., and Hector Verrett, K. C., appearing for Jerome at the hearing, the lawyers were permitted to enter on appearance for their client and his hearing was continued until Sept. 11. The court renewed the $500 bail.

Justice Scores Jerome.
Justice of the Peace McKee was very angry when he learned that Jerome was at Norton's Mills, Vt., just across the border.

"Mr. Jerome may think that Coaticook is a suburb and that he can play poker in the street," he said, "but we will enforce our laws and show him that he cannot come here and play cards before our children. He shall be prosecuted to the fullest extent. Our relations with the American bar are cordial, but our laws must be upheld."

The remarks of the gray bearded justice were greeted with cheers and the magistrate made no attempt to stop the applause. He was at first inclined to declare Jerome's bail forfeited, but when Attorney Verrett reminded him that this would simply mean a loss to two Canadian citizens and would not hurt Jerome the court decided to let the bail stand.

Jerome's $500 bail was furnished by Verrett and Andre Rousseau, a local hotel keeper. Rousseau declared that Thaw had in seriousness offered to reimburse him if Jerome forfeited his bail.

SENATE READY TO PASS TARIFF BILL

Upper House to Approve Measure in Original Form.

WOOD PULP CLAUSE IS OUT

Progressive Republican Votes Claimed as Offset to Louisiana Senators' Refusal to Support Bill on Account of Sugar Provisions—Smoot Expresses Opinion Concerning Wood Pulp.

Washington, Sept. 8. There is strong possibility of a vote on the tariff Monday night. A continuous session was held, however, to get the bill out of committee.

It was made almost a certainty that the bill would be passed practically intact, after four months' discussion in the senate. Confident of solid Democratic support, except for Randall and Thornton of Louisiana, who bolted free sugar, the Democratic leaders professed to have promises of support from some Progressive Republicans. Some of the leaders predicted the bill would pass with a majority of four or five.

An important development was the striking from the bill, by order of the finance committee, of the countervailing duty on wood pulp, a provision designed as retaliation against Canada for wood pulp export restrictions.

Senator Smoot said he would vote for the amendment, but predicted that it would not be many years when the great pulp manufacturing business would be transferred to Canada.

"The only result will be that the profits will go to Canadian manufacturers," said Mr. Smoot.

"All the burdens of these retaliations must be borne by the American newspaper publishers, who, in 1912, paid indirectly a penalty of more than $3,000,000 in addition to the amount of retaliatory duties paid directly.

Supply Limited.

"No print paper can be bought in the open market. American mills will not sell news print paper unless they know its destination, the purpose for which it is to be used and the name of the buyer. They starve the market by restricting production, as is shown by their monthly reports to the bureau of corporations.

"They have kept down the stock of paper on hand at the mills to an eight day supply for all the newspapers of the country. They have dumped paper into Great Britain at lower prices than they will sell to the American consumer."

The free leather paragraph was amended to make sure the free importation of all leathers.

Long discussion developed over the free importation of works of art more than fifty years old. Senators Root and Lodge appealed in vain for a revision to encourage American art for the benefit of all the people.

Senator Simmons said the Democrats next session would adequately consider trust and railroad questions and did not want to load the tariff bill down with important railroad rate legislation.
